This year's autumn and winter runways prove the boho trend—a natural summer staple—can work for the winter season too. Flowy lines, dark florals, and statement sleeves capture this season's take on this popular look.

29% YoY increase in searches for "boho" in Clothing

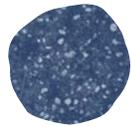

Fleece frenzy

The fuzzy "teddy jacket" trend that picked up steam last year shows no signs of slowing down. Trendy styles such as half-zips and colour blocking keep the style fresh. Consider offering monograms and other personalised touches to stand out.

Timing tip: Searches for "fleece" start to pick up in September.

Zefyraz

Ugly Christmas jumpers

If there's one hot wardrobe item shoppers are eyeing around Christmas, it's this campy winter layer, which ranks as the number one clothing-related search term in the latter months of the year.

Timing tip: Ugly Christmas jumper searches pick up in mid-October, and peak in the first week of December.

Christmas pyjamas

Right after Halloween, buyers go on the lookout for Christmas-themed loungewear: "personalised pyjamas", "matching pyjamas", and "family pyjamas" are key searches. Maximise offerings by keeping the whole family in mind with a range of sizes and plenty of customisation options.

Timing tip: Stock your seasonal pyjama sets well before searches peak in early November.

MinimalistMagnolia

Vintage opportunity
Vintage styles appeal to buyers seeking one-of-a-kind finds.

Personalisation potential

Thanks to an emphasis on expressing individuality, there's a surge in demand for custom pieces.

Consider expanding your bespoke offerings with entries into these areas:

Custom travel accessories

Thank influencers for surging interest in elevated travel, which sellers can tap into with wayfaring accessories like passport holders, dopp kits, and bags in luxe materials like leather with initialling or monogramming options.

Last Christmas season's top-selling leather goods offered personalisation options.

Sentimental tokens Locketts and other engravable pieces (especially those with antique finishes) have loads of heartfelt festive appeal—and pair well with celestial and zodiac-themed pieces. Shoppers can mix and match for an even more individualised look.

Modern letter and initial jewellery Single-initial and nameplate pendants are making a comeback, with gold and rhinestone versions of the 2000s favourite trending across jewellery categories.

XL knits

Braving the winter elements gets easier with hats, scarves, and mittens in chunky, sturdy knits. Hand-spun textiles and bold colours appeal to expressive buyers who want to stand out in the snow.

Gifts for him

Finds for “him” consistently rank highly among shoppers’ searches. And last Christmas season, our Gifts for Him guide was our most popular recipient-based collection. Consider how you can add a unique spin to staples like the wallet or keychain.

Country escape

This look takes its style inspiration from weekend getaways. Elegant muted tones and richly textured materials are key for practical must-haves like hats and gloves.

Luxury leather goods

Timeless leather goods such as belts, dopp kits, and keychains make foolproof gifts. This year, watch straps and wallets are steadily working their way up the favourites list.

Fetching and festive

Christmas party accents like cufflinks and lapel pins are getting gussied up with fresh designs and subtly seasonal shapes — think mistletoe, stags, robins, and wolves.

Wedding Trends

Winter celebrations coincide with peak engagement season and mark the beginning, for many couples, of entertaining as a twosome. Customers will be on the hunt for special surprises from engagement rings to presents fit for a pair.

Vintage opportunity
"vintage engagement rings" and "vintage rings" are top searches during this timeframe.

Engagement rings

We see a major uptick in engagement ring searches toward the end of the year. While some buyers know just what they want (moissanite, moonstone, morganite, and rose gold were some of the top-searched engagement ring materials last year), others are more open to a variety of looks (broader searches such as "unique engagement ring" also ranked highly). Engagement ring boxes are another popular item for planning the perfect proposal.

Action Points

Use these tips to put the trends discussed here to work.

Some advice: Only tap the trends that feel right for your business.

If a trend doesn't resonate with you or your target customer, skip it.

Keep your shop fresh

- Update your Shop Banner with seasonal details.
- Incorporate seasonal trends in your photos and styling.
- Use your featured listings to spotlight fresh designs alongside bestsellers.
- Remember to update occasion-specific images, tags, and titles after the key date has passed.

Get discovered

- Include relevant seasonal search terms in your tags and titles. Flip back through this report for ideas.
- When stocking your shop, time your offerings with upticks in searches for that type of item.
- Consider common budgets when pricing your items (for example: gifts under £30, £50, £100).
- Offer ready-to-ship items to appeal to last-minute shoppers and be eligible for select gift guide promotions.
- Add important recipient phrases like “best friend” or “gifts for him” to your titles and tags.
- Use attributes to help shoppers find your items in search.

Give shoppers what they want

- Offer personalisation: Toggle Personalisation on when editing or creating a listing and leave instructions for shoppers so they can add their personalisation details. Use bulk edit to enable personalisation for multiple listings at once.
- Highlight gift potential in your product photos (for example: show gift wrap).

Keep them coming back

- Set up a free shipping guarantee to the US for orders $35 and up.
- Offer global delivery to reach customers around the world.
- If you have an Etsy Shop in the US, Canada, or Germany, use estimated delivery dates to let customers know when they can expect their orders.
- Turn first-time buyers into repeat shoppers with great customer service and a thank-you coupon.
